7:00 PM - Dinner break

9:30 PM - Pine Hills, Eyes in the Sky

Join us and our UFO experts to glance up to the sky and discuss UFO sightings that have happened locally. This presentation will be outdoors so dress appropriately.

SATURDAY

9:00 AM - Tobias Wayland

Tobias is a passionate fortean and outspoken paranormal agnostic who has spent the last nine years actively investigating the unusual; for the first five years as a MUFON field investigator, and the last four as a freelance writer and then the head writer and editor for The Singular Fortean Society. His years as an investigator have served him best by illustrating that when it comes to the anomalous, the preternatural, and the paranormal, any answers he's found are still hopelessly outnumbered by questions.

10:30 AM - Ty Gowen

Adept at interpreting and utilizing the metaphysical techniques used by his teammates, Ty prefers to corroborate this type of evidence with traditional technical tools. While proficient in tech, he is quickly gaining experience in the world of magic, as he actively studies and provides readings with Elder Runes for those who prefer their divination to have a Viking bite. For events, Ty has experience lecturing and guiding teams through some of America's more famous hauntings via Amy Bruni's Strange Escapes.

While touring and lecturing, his approach to investigation may seem a bit left of center, so Ty appreciates opportunities to share his strange knowledge with eager investigators and to explore all that the world of weird has to offer.

12:00 PM - Lunch Break

1:00 PM - Allison Jornlin

Recipient of the Milwaukee Paranormal Conference's 2016 Wisconsin Researcher of the Year Award, Allison Jornlin has been investigating hauntings and other strange phenomena for more than 20 years. Inspired by Chicago's Richard Crowe, who kickstarted U.S. ghost tourism in 1973, she developed Milwaukee's first haunted history tour in 2008. Since then Allison has led numerous haunted history tours and presented talks on a variety of Fortean topics — poltergeists, UFOs, cryptids, demonic possession, etc. Allison has been featured on TV, radio, and in print and has contributed research to books, articles, and podcasts. She frequently works with paranormal teams to investigate historic buildings, providing witness interviews and archival research to facilitate their efforts.

2:30 PM - Dave Schrader

Dave has been one of the leading voices of the paranormal since 2006 when he launched his wildly popular talk show, Darkness on the Edge of Town on Twin Cities News Talk - Minneapolis's top-rated AM talk station. The show grew to become one of the station's most successful shows and most-downloaded podcasts, expanding Schrader's reach globally. Seeing an opportunity, Schrader moved his show to Chris Jericho's network of shows on PodcastOne, where he further expanded his worldwide audience. Add this to his duties as a recurring fill-in host for the internationally-syndicated Coast to Coast AM talk show, and you get the picture of a serious paranormal insider.

4:00 PM - Chad Lewis

Wisconsin has a rich history of UFO and Alien encounters. Each year hundreds of people witness something in the sky that they can't explain. Even more bizarre are those who believe they have come face to face with extraterrestrial beings. Paranormal Research Chad Lewis explores some of the most bizarre UFO encounters Wisconsin has to offer. Filled with eyewitness encounters, historical sightings, and on-site investigations, this presentation presents the audience with: UFOs buzzing over crop circles, Aliens shaped like small birds, A Sheriff's bizarre run in with a hovering craft, A family being abducted against their will,, Many many more...

5:00 PM - A panel discussion with the Experts

SATURDAY [CONT.]

6:00 PM - Dinner Break

7:30 PM - Grant S. Wilson

Grant has been actively involved in all types of paranormal investigation since his first intense encounter with the paranormal at age 15. He has paved the way for much of the modern field through his work with the group The Atlantic Paranormal Society (T.A.P.S) which he co-founded many years ago. His unique level-headed approach to the field caught the attention of the world through the top-watched cable show Ghost Hunters, which he produced along with Ghost Hunters International. He has spoken to hundreds of thousands of people and affected millions more worldwide with his big heart, extensive knowledge, and down-to-earth technique.
